DETAILED ACTION

1. In view of the Arguments filed on 06/18/2007, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. Prosecution set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Banga-Smith et al (U.S. 5,931,904) and further in view of Smith et al (U.S. 7,139,844).

As per claims 1,6,11 Banga-Smith disclosed a method of enhancing data delivery comprising: sending a first packet from a client interface to a remote terminal at a first time; receiving at the client interface a second packet from the remote terminal at a second time (col. 3, lines 22-36); providing a plurality of different content versions, each is having a different amount of information, each content version being optimized for a specific connection speed (col. 3, lines 3-15); based on said determined connection speed, automatically selecting a content version from said plurality of content versions; and is providing the remote terminal with the selected content version (col. 5, lines 32-47).

However Banga-Smith did not disclose, "determining a response time of the remote terminal at the client interface based on a time period between the first time and the second time; using said response time to determine information related to a connection speed between the remote terminal and the client interface".

In the same field of endeavor Smith disclosed, "Alternatively the client session can periodically issue a test message to the client and measure the period of time before a response time from the client is received (col. 17, lines 39-43)".

Art Unit: 2145

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to have incorporated alternatively the client session can periodically issue a test message to the client and measure the period of time before a response time from the client is received as taught by Smith in the method and system of Banga-Smith to provide a data delivery mechanism which dynamically adjusts transmission rates to the speed at which a client can receive and process data while ensuring that updated data received by a client is current.

3. As per claim 2 Banga-Smith disclosed further comprising determining a data flow rate from the determined response time of the remote terminal, and wherein the determining the response time comprises: starting a timer at the first time when the client interface sends the first packet to the remote terminal; and stopping the timer at the second time when the client interface receives the second acknowledgement packet from the remote terminal (Banga, col.. 6, lines 53-66).

4. As per claims 3,13 Banga-Smith disclosed further comprising determining network congestion based on the determined response time (Banga, col. 4, lines 29-47).

5. As per claims 4,14 Banga-Smith disclosed further comprising determining the response time based on a timing of a handshake between the remote terminal and the client interface (Banga, col. 1, lines 58-67 & col. 2, lines 1-4).

Art Unit: 2145

6. As per claim 5 Banga-Smith disclosed wherein selecting the destination address from a plurality of addresses is based on a requested address by the remote terminal and the determined response time (Banga, col. 6, lines 53-66).

7. As per claim 7 Banga-Smith disclosed further comprising determining a data flow rate from the remote terminal based on the response time (Banga, col. 4, lines 29-47).

8. As per claim 8 Banga-Smith disclosed wherein the requested destination address includes a main destination address and a plurality of sub-addresses, each of said sub-addresses corresponding to a connection speed and optimized for a said connection speed (Banga, col. 2, lines 1-11).

9. As per claim 9 Banga-Smith disclosed further comprising determining a network congestion based on the determined response time (Banga, col. 4, lines 29-47).

10. As per claims 10,12 Banga-Smith disclosed further comprising connecting the remote terminal to the selected destination address (Banga, col. 5, lines 48-67).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
